State Superintendent Says 'No' to Citizens Committee

School Territory Exchange Rejected at State Level

A territory exchange recommendation made by the Fayette County Citizens Committee over the protests of its three city-appointed members has been disapproved by E. E. Holt, state superintendent of public instruction, on grounds that it violates established policy and also because of opposition to the proposal within one of the areas involved.

The recommendation, approved by the committee on a 6-3 vote aligning rural members against city members, called for transfer of the populous Belle Aire subdivision of Washington C. H. to Miami Trace School district and the simultaneous transfer of 840 acres of farmland, mostly between Route 22 east and the CCC Highway east, from the Miami Trace district to the city district.

Approximately 92.4 per cent of the voters in Belle Aire subdivision had protested the transfer in a petition filed with the state superintendent, and the Washington C. H. board also registered a strong protest against the suggestion.

The Fayette County Board of Education endorsed the exchange of territory.

Red China Offers News Swap Plan

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)—Communist China proposed today an American-Chinese agreement on mutual admission of newsmen "on an equal and reciprocal basis."

In Washington, diplomatic informants described the proposal as unacceptable but as one the United States would study for possible counter-moves.

Washington authorities interpreted the maneuver as designed

H. L. Mencken Would Have Snorted Loud

BALTIMORE (AP)—Admittedly apprehensive about what he might have thought of the idea, some of the boys set out to honor H. L. Mencken today on the 77th anniversary of his birth.

A highlight of the tribute to the late newspaperman, caustic critic and literary scholar was a half-hour television show including the dedication of a memorial plaque.

The plaque came from Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity.

Inscribed on the plaque were Mencken's name, the dates of his birth and death (Jan. 29, 1936), the work he did ("newspaperman, author, editor, critic, philologist") and the epitaph he wrote for himself in 1951:

"If, after I depart this vale, you ever remember me and have thought to please my ghost, forgive some sinner and wink your eye at some homely girl."

Mencken was as well known for his contempt of pomposity as for his love of the written word. Those involved in the plaque dedication apparently kept this in the fore of their thoughts. In its own announcement of the program, Sigma Delta Chi observed:

"Henry Louis Mencken would have snorted, jammed a Havana import in his mouth and punched out a smoking tirade on the senselessness of paying homage to a hen when no longer is in a position to obtain copies in a school library."

Miss Huggard denied that the book was dropped because it contained passages derogatory to Negroes. It was felt the story was really not a textbook, she said, adding that those pupils wanting to read it could obtain copies in the school libraries.

The work still is distributed as a textbook in the city high schools. "Huckleberry Finn," first published in 1885, tells the story of boyhood in the Mississippi Valley in the 1840's.

Second Flat Tire Just Too Much

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It was a little more than Thomas R. McQuade could take when he had the second flat of the day on his new station wagon. So he kept going, police reported, at speeds in excess of 55 mph. The tire shredded and fell off the wheel, the wheel itself fell apart. He was booked on suspicion of drunk driving.

12th Girl Born; No Sons Wanted

MORRISTOWN, N. J. (AP)—Raymond Beston gave birth to her 12th daughter Wednesday—a medical rarity. She has no sons. Doctors said the chances of having 12 of a kind are "slimmer than slim."

The 41-year-old mother and her husband, a night watchman at the Morris County Courthouse, wanted a girl. We wouldn't know what to do with a boy," the mother said.

The Bestons have 11 daughters. The third child died at birth.

The latest arrival weighs 8 pounds and 2½ ounces.

Pravda Insists Red Arms Proposals Are 'Realistic'

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda suggested today the United States could escape the dangers of Russia's military strength as outlined by Marshal Konstantin A. Veshin by accepting the "concrete and realistic proposals" of the Soviet Union for ending the arms race.

Veshin, commander of the Soviet Air Force, said in a statement broadcast by Moscow radio Saturday that Western Europe and large U. S. metropolitan areas are particularly vulnerable to the newly-announced Soviet rocket missile.

"Invention of the intercontinental missile makes it possible to reach any part of the world," he said.

Pravda, official organ of the Soviet Communist party, said American reaction to Veshin's statement was disappointing.

"American generals and their bosses refuse to admit the defeat of their 'positions of strength' policy," Pravda said. "In these conditions the way out for the United States, just as for the whole world, is to accept the concrete and realistic proposals of the Soviet Union on the discontinuation of these arms race."

"ALL COUNTRIES of the world, including the United States, will gain if they agree to halt the race."

Soviet disarmament proposals call for an immediate ban on nuclear weapons and tests without the provisions for inspection demanded by the West.

Reesville Man Dies of Burns

Funeral Saturday For Walter Glass

Walter (Ginty) Glass, 69, of Reesville, died at 2 p. m. Wednesday in University Hospital, Columbus, of burns received about 8 a. m. Monday at the Reesville School, Clinton County.

Circumstances surrounding the fatal burning remain obscure, because he was alone in the school at the time. However, indications are that Mr. Glass, who had been the school janitor for 15 years, was lighting a kerosene burner under a hot water heater when his clothing caught fire.

He was brought to Memorial Hospital here and given emergency treatment and then taken on to University Hospital.

He was a native of Reesville and had been employed by the nearby Melvin Stone Co. for about 20 years before he became janitor of the school.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary McNeil Glass; a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Anschutz of Madison Mills and two grandchildren, Dennis and Elaine Anschutz.

He was a member of the Reesville Methodist Church and had been active in the Masonic and Eastern Star lodges in Sabina for many years.

Services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Saturday in the Littleton Funeral Home in Sabina and burial will be in the Sabina Cemetery. The Rev. Prinits Spear, pastor of the Reesville Methodist Church, will officiate.

The Masonic service will be held at the funeral home at 8 p. m. Friday.

Friends may call at the funeral home from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m. Friday.

"EVERY SYRIAN national is prepared to shed his blood for the sake of preserving his country's independence," Gen. Afif Bizry, leftist commander in chief of the Syrian army, said.

"Syria is now fighting against all imperialistic conspiracies and the people and the army are united in one front," he added.

Bizry and Lt. Col. Abdel Hamid Serraj, Syrian Army intelligence chief, arrived Wednesday on a surprise visit that underlined the deepening concern of the two Arab allies over the Syrian crisis.

Asked to comment on charges that the U. S. government is seeking to overthrow Syria's regime, Bizry said:

"Americans do not only limit their adventures to movies, but they also yield to them in normal life, imagining that a dollar can do anything."

French Informed About U. S. Indian

PARIS (AP) — The U. S. Embassy is going to set the French straight on what happened to the American Indian.

The embassy receives letters from Frenchmen who say the Americans exterminated the Indians and thus have no right to criticize France for fighting the Algerian rebellion. The reply:

The Indian population — 846,000 in the days of Columbus — had dropped to about 300,000 by the middle of the 19th Century as a result of tribal wars, drought, disease and migrations. Today's Indian population is more than 400,000, apart from those living in paleface communities.

Smaller Beef Supply In U. S. Is Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — American consumers face smaller supplies of beef during the next two or three years—possibly as much as one eighth below last year's consumption average.

The Agriculture Department predicts this in analyzing the down-swing in beef cattle production.

The department says supplies by 1960 may average 10 pounds below the 1956 consumer consumption average of 80 pounds.

Rost's Condition Is Called Good

"There is also evidence furnished in the form of a petition containing signatures of 231 residents, out of a possible 250 residents voting, amounting to 92.4 percent of the residents of the Bellaire subdivision, protesting the recommendation of the Citizens Committee with respect to this proposal for transferring of this territory to the Miami Trace, and stating that said resident electors wish to remain in the Washington C. H. City School District.

"I desire to report that I have carefully reviewed all of the material submitted both for and against the proposal of the Fayette County Citizens' Committee, and I have conferred with many people on both sides of the question. In view of all of the evidence submitted,

ONE ACTION has been taken on either of the two requests for intervention by the State Board of Education in Fayette County's six-year-old school controversy.

Holt said Thursday noon in a telephone conversation with the Record-Herald that requests of this kind are "somewhat new" for the State Department of Education and that, for this reason, they are being given serious study. He did not say when action on either request could be expected. He said "I just can make no statement at the present time."

One of the requests was made in a Citizens Committee minority report signed by Ray Brandenburg, Walter Rettig and Edward S. Cunningham, who represent the town on the committee. This report was delivered to Holt's office Monday morning.

The other request was made in a petition signed by "around 400 residents of every subdivision of Fayette County" which was given to the state Board of Education last Monday night.

County Treasurer Charles A. Fabb, spokesman for the petitioners, told the board that "we feel that with only 5,000 students altogether (in both the Miami Trace and city districts) consolidation into just one district would mean a considerable saving."

The preamble to the petition asked the "State Department of Education to conduct a study and review the needs and recommend proposals for the consolidation of the school districts. . . ."

Fabb said a brief supporting the petition had been filed with Francis Spicer, a member of the state board and chairman of the committee that is expected to make the preliminary study of the request for the survey by the state department.

Reesville Man Dies of Burns

Funeral Saturday
For Walter Glass

Walter (Ginty) Glass, 69, of Reesville, died at 2 p. m. Wednesday in University Hospital, Columbus, of burns received about 8 a. m. Monday at the Reesville School, Clinton County.

Circumstances surrounding the fatal burning remain obscure, because he was alone in the school at the time. However, indications are that Mr. Glass, who had been the school janitor for 15 years, was lighting a kerosene burner under a hot water heater when his clothing caught fire.

He was brought to Memorial Hospital here and given emergency treatment and then taken on to University Hospital.

He was a native of Reesville and had been employed by the nearby Melvin Stone Co. for about 20 years before he became janitor of the school.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary McNeil Glass; a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Anschutz of Madison Mills and two grandchildren, Dennis and Elaine Anschutz.

He was a member of the Reesville Methodist Church and had been active in the Masonic and Eastern Star lodges in Sabina for many years.

Services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Saturday in the Littleton Funeral Home in Sabina and burial will be in the Sabina Cemetery. The Rev. Prinits Spear, pastor of the Reesville Methodist Church, will officiate.

The Masonic service will be held at the funeral home at 8 p. m. Friday.

Friends may call at the Lukens Funeral Home in London until 12:30 p. m. Friday.

LEONARD WILLIAMS—Services for Leonard Williams, 57, Jeffersonville native and long-time resident of that village, were held at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Alvin G. Little Funeral Home there. Mr. Williams died Sunday in Tipton, Ind., where he had made his home for 20 years.

The Rev. C. R. Williamson was in charge of the services, and burial was in Fairview Cemetery. Pallbearers were Robert Knecht, Clarence Knecht Jr., Gerald Straley, Robert Owens, Herschel Long, Harry Theobald, Charles Funk and Hugh Creamer.

EVERY SYRIAN national is prepared to shed his blood for the sake of preserving his country's independence," Gen. Afif Bizri, leftist commander in chief of the Syrian army, said.

"Syria is now fortified against all imperialistic conspiracies and the people and the army are united in one front," he added.

Bizri and Lt. Col. Abdel Hamid Serraj, Syrian Army intelligence chief, arrived Wednesday on a surprise visit that underlined the deepening concern of the two Arab allies over the Syrian crisis.

Asked to comment on charges that the U. S. government is seeking to overthrow Syria's regime, Bizri said:

"Americans do not only limit their adventures to movies, but they also yield to them in normal life, imagining that a dollar can do anything."

French Informed About U. S. Indian

PARIS (F)—The U. S. Embassy is going to set the French straight on what happened to the Americans.

The embassy receives letters from Frenchmen who say the Americans exterminated the Indians and thus have no right to criticize France for fighting the Algerian rebellion. The reply:

The Indian population—846,000 in the days of Columbus—had dropped to about 300,000 by the middle of the 19th Century as a result of tribal wars, drought, disease and migrations. Today's Indian population is more than 460,000, apart from those living in paleface communities.

Smaller Beef Supply In U. S. Is Predicted

The Agriculture Department predicts this in analyzing the downswing in beef cattle production.

The department says supplies by 1960 may average 10 pounds below the 1956 consumer consumption average of 80 pounds.

He said he planned to devote part of his time here to lobbying on behalf of Cypriot independence at the forthcoming session of the United Nations General Assembly.

"The Cyprus question is not a question of union with Greece," the archbishop said. "Cyprus belongs only to its own people and the Cypriot people demand to be given the right to decide their own political future."

Transfer Proposal Rejected

There is also evidence furnished in the form of a petition containing signatures of 231 residents, out of a possible 250 residents voting, amounting to 92.4 percent of the residents of the Belle Aire subdivision, protesting the recommendation of the Citizens Committee with respect to this proposal for the transferring of this territory to the Miami Trace, and stating that said resident electors wish to remain in the Washington C. H. City School District.

I desire to report that I have carefully reviewed all of the material submitted both for and against the proposal of the Fayette County Citizens' Committee, and I have conferred with many people on both sides of the question. In view of all of the evidence submitted, the action of the State Board of Education and that, for this reason, they are being given serious study. He did not say when action on either request could be expected. He said "I just can make no statement at the present time."

One of the requests was made in a Citizens Committee minority report signed by Ray Brandenburg, Walter Rettig and Edward S. Cunningham, who represent the Assembly on the committee. This report was delivered to Holt's office Monday morning.

The other request was made by a petition signed by "around 40 residents of every subdivision of Fayette County" which was given to the state Board of Education last Monday night.

County Treasurer Charles A. Fabb, spokesman for the petitioners, told the board that "we feel that with only 5,000 students altogether (in both the Miami Trace and city districts) consolidation into just one district would mean a considerable saving."

The preamble to the petition asked the "State Department of Education to conduct a study and survey the needs and recommend proposals for the consolidation of the school districts."

Fabb said a brief supporting the petition had been filed with Francis Spicer, a member of the state board and chairman of the committee that is expected to make the preliminary study of the request for the survey by the state department.

A-Energy Does Soapless Laundry

PARIS (F)—Dr. Henry Seligman, from Britain's famed atomic installation at Harwell, has come up with another peacetime use for atomic energy. It does laundry and without detergents or even hot water.

Seligman said radiation, in large enough doses, can kill almost any kind of bacterial organism, thus insuring thorough sterilization. While some slight damage is done to the fibers over a period of time, irradiated fabrics do not become radioactive, he said.

It's still much too early to forecast what all this might mean for tomorrow's housewives, he added, but irradiation sterilization already is being applied to surgical dressings in hospitals.

May Prove Real Boost For Armed Services

It has been contended by many people in almost every community in this country that pay increases on the basis of merit is something that should be applied, not only in private business, but in all forms of government work as well. That means more than federal government. It should apply to state, county, city and township.

Nearly everyone recognizes that this has not, and is not, now the case in all business and government circles.

It is a happy note which the U. S. Department of Defense has injected into this phase of the picture, however, in a report that this department is completing the implementing of such a plan.

Pay in military circles long has been a matter of argument with a great many people insisting that too many high ranking officials in military work are making a joke out of actually earning what they receive in salaries and living luxuries.

The plan now being talked about by the Department of Defense will cost several millions of dollars more at the start but in the long run, its backers say, will save billions of dollars.

Efficiency and ability long have gone without due reward, as far as pay in the Armed Services is concerned. Based almost solely on rank and longevity, the military pay scale has traditionally been a sore spot for the services.

The new plan will be decidedly beneficial. By rewarding proficiency, it will help alleviate a sagging morale problem, increase all-round efficiency, and sharpen combat readiness. It will help the services hang on to men who otherwise would abandon the uniform, after required training, for higher civilian wages.

The merit system was proposed by a special committee headed by Ralph J. Cordiner, president of General Electric Company. The committee has done the military and the nation a great service by sparking the reform.

Ideal Secretary Fibs for Boss

NEW YORK (AP) — Should the ideal secretary be willing to fib for her boss?

"Oh, yes, if they're simply little white lies," said Miss Sheila Ward of Montreal, who is ideal in several ways. "You have to do that to get him off the hook."

"But a secretary should never tell one to her boss (that wouldn't be good teamwork) and he shouldn't tell her any. How can she help him if he doesn't tell her the truth?"

Miss Ward, who is 34, blonde, pretty and blue-eyed, last July won an international comet for secretaries sponsored by the Executive Furniture Guild.

In or out of the office Sheila, secretary for R. A. Neale, a vice president of Canadair Limited, is quite a girl.

She holds a degree in advertising and merchandising from McGill University. She has been a corporal in the Canadian air force. She can sing, play the piano and violin. She likes skiing, tennis, and swimming. She is an inventive cook. She can speak and write English and French and can also get along in Norwegian, Danish, German, Italian and Spanish. She can write speeches.

What perhaps makes her even more unusual as a secretary is that she can also type fast and spell well.

"My only trouble," she confessed, "is with the 'I.e.' words—such as chief, friend and friend."

Here are a few tips she has for girls who aspire to be ideal secretaries:

1. Dress neatly. Don't wear jangle, gingerbread jewelry.

2. Take as much as possible of your boss's work load off his shoulders. You should be able to handle 50 per cent of his routine correspondence without taking dictation.

3. Stay on good terms with the people you work with.

4. Leave your personal troubles and grievances at home. Don't bring them to the office."

Miss Ward, who likes to lunch at her desk, says the biggest mistake most secretaries make is that they are check watchers and think too often of their paychecks.

"They do exactly what they are paid to do and nothing more."

What about the mistake made most often by bosses?

"They go away without telling their secretaries where they can be reached," said Sheila.

Miss Ward, who had to be cleared by two government security agencies because of her firm's defense contracts, believes women in business can hold secrets better than men.

"At cocktail parties women can always think of something to talk about besides their work," she said, and added smiling:

"We also don't feel we have to talk big to feel important. Men sometimes do."

Signs To Watch for In Visual Defects

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

You can't see through your child's eyes. Furthermore, you can't expect him to complain about any visual difficulties that might be developing. How, then, can you determine whether he has eye trouble?

Making sure that he has periodic examinations by an eye specialist, is the best way, of course. All children should have eye exams before they enter school.

But there are other ways of finding trouble, too.

And perhaps he'll have recurring headaches or tired eyes, especially at the end of the school day or in the evening.

Any or all of these things might be found in a youngster with eye trouble.

Is it any wonder then that his school work is apt to suffer, that he is likely to become unsociable—and that he might eventually wind up a delinquent—unless his visual difficulty is corrected?

Hold books too far away or too close to the face when reading—the ideal distance is about 18 inches; make frequent changes in distance at which the book is being held; have difficulty in reading, spelling, arithmetic, sewing, knitting or other work requiring close use of the eyes; confuse the letters o and a, e and c, n and m, h and n, and r, and t in reading and spelling.

He may be inattentive during reading periods of blackboard work; have poor alignment in written work; skip or reread lines; lose the place when reading; read slowly or aloud; use finger as a marker or pointer; shut or cover one eye when reading; can't remember what he has read.

He may also become irritable when attempting to do close work; blink continually; stop reading after a brief period; tend to reverse words or syllables; tend to look cross-eyed; frown a great deal; tilt the head to one side; thrust his head forward when looking at near or distant objects; develop other peculiar habits.

The Nation Today

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas not only has surrounded his actions with mystery but has pictured himself as the target of plots and plans that range from tapping his wires to arresting and assassinating him.

He telephoned President Eisenhower Sept. 4 that "I have strong reasons to believe" the FBI was tapping his telephones. This was after he used National Guardsmen to keep Negro children from a school ordered integrated by a federal judge.

U. S. Dist. Atty. Osro Cobb of Little Rock promptly said: "such a belief is wholly unwarranted."

When newsmen asked Faubus a few days later the basis for his belief about the phone taps, it came down to this: He said he had worked with the FBI in his Army days and "I know what FBI methods are; I do not have the least doubt that they tapped my telephone wires."

He has told newsmen he heard of a plot to assassinate him, a plot organized in a Northern city which he wouldn't name. He said he had heard a group was setting out to "bump" him off.

On Wednesday the marshal went to the mansion. The troops let him through. Faubus willingly accepted the order to appear in court. Why, in view of indecisiveness on Monday, did he do this so willingly on Wednesday?

He said: "I believe in the court. I believe in the law of the land. What would be the purpose of my dodging around, trying to avoid service?" Since he felt this way, what was his purpose in not saying so two days before?

As his excuse for calling out the guardsmen Sept. 2 to keep the Negro children out of Little Rock's Cent. High School, Faubus has pretty much secluded himself in his mansion, which he also surrounded with guardsmen.

Newsmen asked him: Why the seclusion and the guardsmen? He said: "For security reasons and others I couldn't discuss."

It was Federal Judge Ronald N. Davies who ordered the high school integrated last week after a state court had directed a delay in the integration plan approved earlier by both district and appellate federal courts. Faubus said "it is common knowledge" someone else wrote the integration order and just handed it to Davies. He has never identified the someone.

After Faubus blocked the court order with his troops, it became clear by last Monday that Judge Davies would summon him to court to show cause why he should not be ordered to stop interfering with the court's decree.

But the question then was: What would Faubus instruct the guardsmen around his mansion to let a U. S. marshal through to serve the summons?

Newsmen asked him Monday if he'd accept the summons. He said he'd never been asked to produce it. If he has such evidence he no doubt will be asked to produce it Sept. 20 when he—or his attorney general—has to go to Judge Davies' court to show why he shouldn't be ordered to let the Negro children into school.

May Prove Real Boost For Armed Services

It has been contended by many people in almost every community in this country that pay increases on the basis of merit is something that should be applied, not only in private business, but in all forms of government work as well. That means more than federal government. It should apply to state, county, city and township.

Early everyone recognizes that this has not, and is not, now the case in all business and government circles.

It is a happy note which the U. S. Department of Defense has injected into this phase of the picture, however, in a report that this department is completing the implementing of such a plan.

Pay in military circles long has been a matter of argument with a great many people insisting that too many high ranking officials in military work are making a joke out of actually earning what they receive in salaries and living luxuries.

The plan now being talked about by the

Ideal Secretary Fibs for Boss

NEW YORK (AP) — Should the ideal secretary be willing to fib for her boss?

"Oh, yes, if they're simply little white lies," said Miss Sheila Ward of Montreal, who is ideal in several ways. "You have to do that to get him off the hook."

But a secretary should never tell one to her boss (that wouldn't be good teamwork) and he shouldn't tell her any. How can she help him if he doesn't tell her the truth?"

Miss Ward, who is 34, blonde, pretty and blue-eyed, last July won an international contest for secretaries sponsored by the Executive Furniture Guild.

In or out of the office Sheila, secretary for R. A. Neale, a vice president of Canadair Limited, is quite a girl.

She holds a degree in advertising and merchandising from McGill University. She has been a corporal in the Canadian air force. She can sing, play the piano and violin. She likes skiing, tennis, and swimming. She is an inventive cook. She can speak and write English and French and can also get along in Norwegian, Danish, German, Italian and Spanish. She can write speeches.

What perhaps makes her even more unusual as a secretary is that she can also type fast and spell well.

"My only trouble," she confessed, "is with the 'i.e.' words—such as chief, friend and friend."

Here are a few tips she has for girls who aspire to be ideal secretaries:

1. Dress neatly. Don't wear jangle, gingerbread jewelry.

2. Take as much as possible of your boss's work load off his shoulders. You should be able to handle 50 per cent of his routine correspondence without taking dictation.

3. Stay on good terms with the people you work with.

4. Leave your personal troubies and grievances at home. Don't bring them to the office.

Miss Ward, who likes to lunch at her desk, says the biggest mistake most secretaries make is that they are clock watchers and think too often of their paychecks.

They do exactly what they are paid to do and nothing more.

What about the mistake made most often by bosses?

"They go away without telling their secretaries where they can be reached," said Sheila.

Miss Ward, who had to be cleared by two government security agencies because of her firm's defense contracts, believes women in business can hold secrets better than men.

At cocktail parties women can always think of something to talk about besides their work," she said, and added smiling:

"We also don't feel we have to talk big to feel important. Men sometimes do."

Signs To Watch for In Visual Defects

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

You can't see through your child's eyes. Furthermore, you can't expect him to complain about any visual difficulties that might be developing. How, then, can you determine whether he has eye trouble?

Making sure that he has periodic examinations by an eye specialist, is the best way, of course. All children should have eye exams before they enter school.

But there are other ways of finding trouble, too.

There are many signals which might mean your child is having some sort of visual difficulty. Recognize these signs and get prompt professional help for him and you'll help protect his reading ability and his school grades.

A child who has trouble with his eyes might:

Hold books too far away or too close to the face when reading—the ideal distance is about 18 inches; make frequent changes in distance at which the book is being held; have difficulty in reading, spelling, arithmetic, sewing, knitting or other work requiring close use of the eyes; confuse the letters o and a, e and n, n and m, h and n, and r, f and t in reading and spelling.

He may be inattentive during reading periods of blackboard work; have poor alignment in written work; skip or reread lines; lose the place when reading; read slowly or aloud; use finger as a marker or pointer; shut or cover one eye when reading; can't remember what he has read.

He may also become irritable when attempting to do close work; blink continually; stop reading after a brief period; tend

Jury Also Condemns Jurors' Hard Seats

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. (AP)—

A Superior Court jury which Wednesday convicted a man of drunken driving, returned a second verdict: The jurors' chairs are too hard.

"It's torture, just plain torture," said jury foreman Henry E. Ivester. "They get you across your back and just about cut you in two."

The judge promised to pass along the complaint to county authorities.

The Nation Today

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas not only has surrounded his actions with mystery but has pictured himself as the target of plots and plans that range from tapping his wires to arresting and assassinating him.

He telephoned President Eisenhower Sept. 4 that "I have strong reasons to believe" the FBI was tapping his telephones. This was after he used National Guardsmen to keep Negro children from a school ordered integrated by a federal judge.

U. S. Dist. Atty. Osro Cobb of Little Rock promptly said: "such a belief is wholly unwarranted."

When newsmen asked Faubus a few days later the basis for his belief about the phone taps, it came down to this:

He said he had worked with the FBI in his Army days and "I know what FBI methods are; I do not have the least doubt that they tapped my telephone wires."

He has told newsmen he heard of a plot to assassinate him, a plot organized in a Northern city which he wouldn't name. He said he had heard a group was setting out to "bump" him off.

On Wednesday the marshal went to the mansion. The troops let him through. Faubus willingly accepted the order to appear in court. Why, in view of indecisiveness on Monday, did he do this so willingly on Wednesday?

He said: "I believe in the court. I believe in the law of the land. What would be the purpose of dodging around, trying to avoid service?" Since he felt this way, what was his purpose in not saying so two days before?

As his excuse for calling out the guardsmen Sept. 2, Faubus said he had evidence that violence was threatened and he spoke of caravans of people descending on Little Rock if the school was integrated.

The city's mayor, Woodrow Mann, a critic of Faubus' use of the troops, called this statement a hoax. After the troops had been keeping the Negro children from school two days, Mann said: "The Little Rock police have not had a single case of violence reported to them."

What evidence of threatened violence did Faubus have? He's never revealed it. Asked by newsmen last Monday when he would disclose the information, he said:

"Sometime when it can be done without violating confidences and without jeopardy to myself in litigation that might arise."

If he has such evidence he no doubt will be asked to produce it Sept. 20 when he—or his attorney general—has to go to Judge Davies' court to show why he shouldn't be ordered to let the Negro children into school.

Yankee Dollar Still Flowing Into Canada

Industrial Expansion Continues Even with Currency Value Dip

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — American money continues to flow to Canada as the big investment and industrial boom there shows little sign of slowing down. Even with the Canadian dollar at better than a four cent premium over the Yankee dollar the flood doesn't abate.

More than half of the money has been going into direct investment in resources and manufacturing the royal commission on Canada's economic prospects reports.

But Canadian companies have sold large amounts of securities here and their investment companies flourish.

There was a blight of fraudulent or worthless stock peddled by confidence men, often over the long distance phone. American authorities warned the gullible repeatedly and the Canadian government has tried to curb the practice.

The great majority of stocks sold to Americans have been through regular and regulated channels, although many of the securities are highly speculative.

Eight Canadian portfolio investment companies formed since 1954 under U.S. and Canadian regulatory laws report that in the three years they have distributed more than $81 million dollars in securities here.

The Canadian government seems complacent about this form of regulated American investment but there has been considerable worry about the trend toward direct investment with its threat of control by American corporations over Canadian resources and industry.

The royal commission says that non-Canadians have a dominating influence in the oil and gas industry, nickel, iron, aluminum and asbestos industries, and in automobiles, electrical apparatus and rubber products. Many Canadians resent this, fearing that Yankees will be taking over more and more.

But the commission notes that Canada has always welcomed the investment of foreign capital and has benefited greatly and will continue to benefit from the foreign capital that has been invested here."

The trouble seems to be that the Americans are more venturesome and the Canadian investors stick more to the proven thing.

The committee of Canadian investment companies reports that the assets of the eight funds increased 23 per cent in the first half of this year and at mid-year totalled $381,417,357. The committee reports that U.S. investors in these funds now number 105,000, a gain of 8,000 since the first of the year.

This is small when compared to the U.S. mutual funds. The National Assn. of Investment Companies puts the U.S. total of assets of its 136 members as near $1 billion dollars now, up some $800 million dollars in a year.

The eight Canadian funds are: Canada General Fund; Keystone Fund of Canada; New York Capital Fund of Canada; Scudder Fund of Canada; Investors Group Canadian Fund; Canadian International Growth Fund; Templeton Growth Fund of Canada; and United Funds Canada.

Alard Quartet Begins Second Year at Wilmington College

WILMINGTON — The Alard String Quartet begins its second year in residence at Wilmington College this week. The quartet's 1957-58 season will include three formal concerts on the Wilmington campus as well as several concerts planned for the afternoon student gatherings.

They will perform in the nearby area and will be available for public school appearances and workshops. The quartet will also be representing Wilmington College during its 1957-58 concert tour.

MEMBERS of the quartet are Constantine Karadjieff, first violinist, who received his training at the Juilliard School of Music in New York City, and who has been with the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra for the past three seasons; Donald Hopkins, second violinist, also a Juilliard graduate and a former student of Frank Constanzo, Philadelphia, and Ronald Murat, at Juilliard, and now a member of the Dayton Philharmonic Orchestra; Arnold Magness, violist, a former private pupil of Ivan Galamian and again with Gal-

BIRMINGHAM Books Tests for Negroes

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — City school officials next week are to begin a series of tests for eight Negro children who want to go to white schools.

Dr. Frazer Banks, city school superintendent, described the tests as normal, routine achievement and aptitude tests which are given any child whose parents request it.

Alabama's school placement law makes no mention of segregation, but its sponsors have said it is an effort to avert racial integration in the state's schools.

TV's Fall Program Mood

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP) — Judging by the first glimpse of fall programming, television's autumn mood is youthful, springtime innocence.

U. S. Ag Controls Said Socialism

TOLEDO (AP) — Government controls over production and price is "socialism in agriculture" and today's greatest threat to the American way of life, the president of the American Farm Bureau Federation believes.

"We must get it into our heads that what agriculture needs is less legislation rather than more of it,"

Charles Shuman of Sullivan, Ill., told the 61st annual convention of the Grain and Feed Dealers National Assn.

"We cannot and dare not tolerate socialism for one group and fight it for another; we need to face the reality that labor and management can do a better job with regards to supply, demand and prices without the 'help' of the government," Shuman said.

Christopher Columbus died in 1506 still believing that the new lands he had discovered in the Western Hemisphere were outposts of Asia.

U. S. Ag Controls Said Socialism

TOLEDO (AP) — Government controls over production and price is "socialism in agriculture" and today's greatest threat to the American way of life, the president of the American Farm Bureau Federation believes.

"We must get it into our heads that what agriculture needs is less legislation rather than more of it,"

Christopher Columbus died in 1506 still believing that the new lands he had discovered in the Western Hemisphere were outposts of the life of Dr. Samuel Johnson of Asia.

U. S. Land Bank Loans Zooming

4-State Farm Area
Sets Mark in '57

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Farmers in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee set a 22-year record when they used $30,493,000 in federal land bank loans during the fiscal year ended June 30, an Ohio State University conference was told today.

The loans went to 5,550 farm families in the four-state area.

The figures were included in reports given by A. S. Kennedy, president, and other officers of the Federal Land Bank of Louisville. They attended the opening sessions of an annual district Federal Land Bank and National Farm Loan Assn. conference on the campus of Ohio State University.

More than 400 representatives of local farmer-owned national farm loan associations and land bank appraisers in the four states, and officials from the bank at Louisville are attending.

The officials reported that a 25 per cent increase during the past year brought the amount of federal land bank loans outstanding in the four-state area to $155,291,850 on June 30. Of this amount more than $3 millions went to farmers in Ohio.

They reported that farmers are using increasing amounts of both long-term farm real estate loans and short-term farm operating loans. Already up to 9.8 billion dollars, the total farm real estate debt in the United States is expected to go still higher in the months ahead, the conference was told.

Bank spokesmen said that while this is near the all-time high of 10.8 billion dollars reached in 1923, the present farm mortgage debt does not seem excessive when related to today's total farm assets, today's total value of farm real estate and today's total value of personal property and gross farm income.

NAVY TRAINEE -- Charles Dodds, son of Mrs. Robert McGinnis, 322 S. North St., has completed the 85 day accelerated training program at the U. S. Naval Air Station, Port Columbus, and has been advanced to the rating of airmen (AN). Dodds will attend basic rate school next June -- probably the parachute riggers' school in Lakewood, N. J.

Princess-Wallace Romance Is Denied

LONDON (AP)—The tabloid Daily Sketch said yesterday Princess Margaret plans to marry socialite Billy Wallace within the next six months, perhaps before she leaves for a West Indian tour next April.

But a source close to Wallace denied the report.

"You can say categorically that there is no truth to this story," said the source, "and I have this from Billy Wallace himself."

Wallace, stepson of American author-editor Herbert S. Agar, for years has served as escort for Margaret. He is 30, she is 27.

Postal Receipts Up Slightly

Postal receipts at the Washington C. H. office for the four-week period ending Aug. 23 were slightly above receipts for the same period last year.

Receipts for the period this year totaled $10,484. A year ago the receipts were $10,363 for the same four weeks.

Postal inspectors have advised all offices to insist that all mail be completely addressed. Offices have been told to return to the sender all mail not bearing the full name of the addressee and a complete address, including street and number.

State Delinquency Checkup Starts

TOLEDO (AP)—L. Wallace Hoffman, director of the Lucas County Juvenile Court, has begun a statewide survey on juvenile delinquency for the Ohio Commission of Delinquency and Crime.

The Ohio Survey is part of a five-state survey. The Ohio Commission is working under a $690,000 grant originating with the Ford Foundation.

Wallace has mailed questionnaires to 280 judges of common pleas, municipal and juvenile courts, asking for descriptions of their treatment of juvenile delinquents and adults who have committed offenses against juveniles.

Specialist Advised Housewife Bone Up on Grades of Beef

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP)—With pre-packaged meat coming into prominence, the housewife is more or less on her own at the meat market. There's no longer a friendly butcher to advise her on selecting the family meat supply.

Knowing the appropriate grade and cut to select for a particular meat dish is the first step to consider in menu planning, according to Kay Nawn, marketing specialist in the Livestock Branch, Department of Agriculture. Miss Nawn travels all over the country talking to consumer groups on meat selection. She says if you bone up on the subject you will spend your meat dollar wisely and please the head of the house and the kids.

It's easy to distinguish different cuts of meat, she says, if you look at the federal grade stamp. This also tells you the cut. There are some 450 federal meat graders in all important meat marketing centers throughout the country. They judge meat for quality and then stamp a long purple ribbon on it so that even or a relatively small retail meat cut you should be able to see some portion of the marking.

To learn more about these federal grades, you can write to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., and ask for Leaflet 310, U. S. Grades for Beef. Single copies are free. The booklet is one of the 10 most popular among government publications.

The class of meat obtained from cattle varies with age. From birth until three months of age, cattle meat is classified as veal; from three months to one year the grade will stamp it calf. After one year it's beef. Federal grades usually available to you are U. S. prime, U. S. choice, U. S. good, U. S.

Lounging in the den of her Beverly Hills manse, Debbie told the strange history of her hit. She said she recorded the song for a scene in the picture, "Tammy and the Bachelor."

"But I never thought it would be put out as a record," she remarked. "I didn't even do it with an orchestra. I just sang with a piano, and the background was put in later."

U. S. Land Bank Loans Zooming

4-State Farm Area
Sets Mark in '57

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Farmers in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee set a 22-year record when they used $50,493,100 in Federal land bank loans during the fiscal year ended June 30, an Ohio State University conference was told today.

The loans went to 5,550 farm families in the four-state area.

The figures were included in reports given by M. S. Kennedy, president, and other officers of the Federal Land Bank of Louisville. They attended the opening sessions of an annual district Federal Land Bank and National Farm Loan Assn. conference on the campus of Ohio State University.

More than 400 representatives of local farmer-owned national farm loan associations and land bank appraisers in the four states, and officials from the bank at Louisville are attending.

The officials reported that a 25 per cent increase during the past year brought the amount of federal land bank loans outstanding in the four-state area to $155,291,850 on June 30. Of this amount more than $3 million went to farmers in Ohio.

They reported that farmers are using increasing amounts of both long-term farm real estate loans and short-term farm operating loans. Already up to 9.8 billion dollars, the total farm real estate debt in the United States is expected to go still higher in the months ahead, the conference was told.

Bank spokesmen said that while this is near the all-time high of 10.8 billion dollars reached in 1923, the present farm mortgage debt does not seem excessive when related to today's total farm assets, today's total value of farm real estate and today's total value of personal property and gross farm income.

Princess-Wallace Romance Is Denied

LONDON (AP)—The tabloid Daily Sketch said yesterday Princess Margaret plans to marry socialite Billy Wallace within the next six months, perhaps before she leaves for a West Indian tour next April.

But a source close to Wallace denied the report.

"You can say categorically that there is no truth to this story," said the source, "and I have this from Billy Wallace himself."

Wallace, stepson of American author-editor Herbert S. Agar, for years has served as escort for Margaret. He is 30, she is 27.

Postal Receipts Up Slightly

Postal receipts at the Washington C. H. office for the four-week period ending Aug. 23 were slightly above receipts for the same period last year.

Receipts for the period this year totaled $10,484. A year ago the receipts were $10,363 for the same four weeks.

Postal inspectors have advised all offices to insist that all mail be completely addressed. Offices have been told to return to the sender all mail not bearing the full name of the addressee and a complete address, including street and number.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Nearly 75 years ago an energetic young man came into Washington C. H. as a promoter. Within a short time he had purchased land north of the B. & O. Railroad and east of North St., and laid out the English Addition.

As part of his project he built the brick structure now occupied by the Webber C. French Farm Supply Co., which was soon occupied by The Wonder Stove Co. and used as a stove manufacturing plant for many years.

He sold his entire holdings here and went to Cincinnati to continue his promotions on a larger scale.

More than 30 years ago the same man, Powell Crooley, Sr., organized the greatest radio hookup in the world, known as the Crooley Radio Corp.

How long he lived in Washington C. H. I do not know, but it was not very long, according to the information given to me.

One man who remembered Crooley in his younger days, spoke of him as being energetic and a care-free business man, yet one who was ready to take a chance if the outcome for success was favorable.

Apparently, his venture here was a pronounced success, for he continued to increase his promotions until he had organized the great radio corporation.

FEWER FARM TENANTS

Farm tenants, or those who rent farms in Fayette County have shown a marked decrease since 1935, when an all time peak of 813 was registered.

By 1950, as the drift away from farms continued, the number of tenants had dwindled to 506, or a drop of 307 in 15 years.

The 1954 figures, compiled by W. W. Montgomery, county extension agent, showed a slight increase over the 506 in 1950, but it is believed the number today is as small or even smaller than that seven years ago.

Seventy-seven years ago, or in 1880, there were 746 tenant farmers in the county, and in 1910 there were to 742 the number increased to 802 in 1920.

After the peak of 813 in 1935, the total dropped to 647 in 1940 and to 580 in 1945.

I know of some tenant farmers who are leaving the farm next year, or have purchased farms of their own.

In 1880 the rural population in Fayette County was 16,666 and by 1950 this had dwindled to 10,211 or 45 percent of the total population in the county.

Statisticians who have studied the situation estimate the farm population in the U. S. in 1975 at about 15,000,000, compared with 22,000,000 in 1956. They figure the rural population will be seven percent of the total population of the United States in 1975.

GOURDS AS UTILITY

Used to be that common gourds were grown for real use in the early homes of the community. The dipper gourds were used for dipping water from buckets and drinking.

These gourds had a handle (neck) from 10 to 16 inches long and the main portion of the gourd was four to eight inches in diameter.

When many people used water from springs and the "old oaken bucket" they used gourds as dippers.

This was largely before tinware including tin cups was made largely through "tin peddlers" and tinsmiths who made various types of utensils needed in the home.

Then there were the large "sugar trough" gourds, some of which were 16 inches in diameter and held a half bushel or more. They obtained their name from their early use to hold sap from sugar trees preparatory to converting it into maple syrup and maple sugar.

Then the "nest egg" gourd which was egg-shaped and when placed in hen's nests was believed to induce hens to lay more eggs.

Gourds of various shapes also were used for different purposes. For instance the long, club-shaped "Hercules club" gourds were used for storing seeds of various kinds.

After the gourds were ripe they were laid aside to cure thoroughly and then the tough, dry shells were cleaned of seed and put into use. Even the little ornamental gourds had their place and were much prized.

YES, TIMES CHANGE!

Before corn pickers were used nearly all of the corn was either cut and placed in the shock, or left standing to be husked by hand, each corn cutting season, hundreds of men and boys from the hill counties swarmed into Fayette County to help harvest the corn crop and make some extra money to help tide over the winter.

Most of these corn cutters, who years ago I called "knights of the corn knife," were very poor and most of them walked here from their homes and walked back, sleeping along the way wherever night overtook them, usually in barns.

They all carried corn knives, and some small bundles containing clothing. While many had certain farms where they found work each year, others either loaded about the main streets of the city or in the villages, until they were picked up by farmers needing their assistance.

It was the one big chance of the year for them to make a substantial sum, and year after year they took advantage of it.

Many of these men remained for

September Steel Business Better

NEW YORK (AP) — Some steel companies find business in September about 10 per cent ahead of August. Iron Age magazine says adding that a better ratio is expected in October.

"Yet a few outfits are becoming edgy," the national metal-working weekly said. "They had expected a better market situation to have developed by this time. The casual attitude of Detroit and some other users has them worried."

Iron Age said that, for the most part, automobile manufacturers were holding off on their commitments, adding, "apparently they want to go easy until they get an inkling of the demand for new models."

Then there were the large "sugar trough" gourds, some of which were 16 inches in diameter and held a half bushel or more. They obtained their name from their early use to hold sap from sugar trees preparatory to converting it into maple syrup and maple sugar.

Then the "nest egg" gourd which was egg-shaped and when placed in hen's nests was believed to induce hens to lay more eggs.

Gourds of various shapes also were used for different purposes. For instance the long, club-shaped "Hercules club" gourds were used for storing seeds of various kinds.

After the gourds were ripe they were laid aside to cure thoroughly and then the tough, dry shells were cleaned of seed and put into use. Even the little ornamental gourds had their place and were much prized.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Nearly 75 years ago an energetic young man came into Washington C. H. as a promoter. Within a short time he had purchased land north of the B. & O. Railroad and east of North St., and laid out the English Addition.

As part of his project he built the brick structure now occupied by the Webber C. French Farm Supply Co., which was soon occupied by The Wonder Stove Co. and used as a stove manufacturing plant for many years.

He sold his entire holdings here and went to Cincinnati to continue his promotions on a larger scale.

More than 30 years ago the same man, Powell Crosley, Sr. organized the greatest radio hookup in the world, known as the Crosley Radio Corp.

How long he lived in Washington C. H. I do not know, but it was not very long, according to the information given to me.

One man who remembered Crosley in his younger days, spoke of him as being energetic and a careful business man, yet one who was ready to take a chance if the outlook for success was favorable.

Apparently, his venture here was a pronounced success, for he continued to increase his promotions until he had organized the great radio corporation.

FEWER FARM TENANTS

Farm tenants, or those who rent farms in Fayette County have shown a marked decrease since 1935, when an all time peak of 813 was registered.

By 1950, as the drift away from farms continued, the number of tenants had dwindled to 506, or a drop of 307 in 15 years.

The 1954 figures, compiled by W. W. Montgomery, county extension agent, showed a slight increase over the 506 in 1950, but it is believed the number today is as small or even smaller than that seven years ago.

Seventy-seven years ago, or in 1880, there were 746 tenant farmers in the county, and in 1910 there were to 742 the number increased to 802 in 1920.

After the peak of 813 in 1935, the total dropped to 647 in 1940 and to 580 in 1945.

I know of some tenant farmers who are leaving the farm next year, or have purchased farms of their own.

In 1880 the rural population in Fayette County was 16,666 and this had dwindled to 10,211 or 45 percent of the total population in the county.

Statisticians who have studied the situation estimate the farm population in the U. S. in 1957 at about 15,000,000, compared with 22,000,000 in 1956. They figure the rural population will be seven percent of the total population of the United States in 1975.

GOURDS AS UTILITY

Used to be that common gourds were grown for real use in the early homes of the community. The dried gourds were used for dipping water from buckets and drinking.

These gourds had a handle (neck) from 10 to 16 inches long and the main portion of the gourd was four to eight inches in diameter.

When many people used water from springs and the "old oaken bucket" they used gourds as dipper.

This was largely before tinware including tin cups was made largely through "tin peddlers" and tinners who made various types of utensils needed in the home.

Then there were the large "sugar trough" gourds, some of which were 16 inches in diameter and held a half bushel or more. They obtained their name from their early use to hold sap from sugar trees preparatory to converting it into maple syrup and maple sugar.

Then the "nest egg" gourd which was egg-shaped and when placed in hen's nests was believed to induce hens to lay more eggs.

Gourds of various shapes also were used for different purposes. For instance the long, club-shaped "Hercules club" gourds were used for storing seeds of various kinds. After the gourds were ripe they were laid aside to cure thoroughly and then the tough, dry shells were cleaned of seed and put into use. Even the little ornamental gourds had their place and were much prized.

Construction Bond Sale Is Rejected

COLUMBUS (AP)—A technical defect in the lowest bid has caused the Ohio Sinking Fund Commission to reject bids for the purchase of $31 million worth of major thoroughfare construction bonds.

The defective bid which caused the action was submitted by a syndicate headed by Eastman Dillon of New York. The syndicate offered to buy bonds that would mature in 1972. A syndicate headed by Blyth & Co. of New York submitted the only other bid of 3.72 per cent. The commission decided to readvertise the bonds for sale on Oct. 8.

Pre-Preparedness

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Council of the Cincinnati Academy of Medicine has asked city officials to give top priority for Asian flu vaccine to firefighters, police and those engaged in essential community services.

Boosters Club
To Meet Lions
Loan Is Approved
For Pony Insurance

The Boosters Club, which was the motivating force behind the pony football program now getting underway here, agreed at its meeting in the old house at Garden Park Wednesday night to loan the pony league sufficient money for insurance.

Howard Miller was elected vice president to succeed Bill Carter, who resigned last week.

At the suggestion of the members, Ed Peters, president, appointed Charles Callender, chairman, Paul Pennington, Bernard Self and Jim Wilson as the fund-raising committee.

The importance of this committee's assignment was underscored by the club's vote to loan money for pony football insurance. It was noted at the time that donations to repay the loan will be "most acceptable."

THE CLUB will serve milk again to the WHS varsity Lions and their opponents after every home game. This has been done for several years as a means of building up sportsmanship and friendships among youths of the two schools.

That it would be continued was considered a foregone conclusion, but Wednesday night's action by the club made it official.

With the business disposed of, Coach Fred Domenico gave the boosters some idea of what they could expect when the Lions go to Linden-McKinley in Columbus Friday night for their first game of the 1957 season.

While he did not predict the winner, he gave the unmistakable impression that he felt the Lions could give a good account of themselves against the more experienced Panthers. But that they will have their work cut out for them if they win.

Movies of the game last year, when the Lions whipped the Panthers, were shown. Domenico and Assistant Coach Marvin Merritt narrated.

AT THE CONCLUSION of the meeting, Domenico invited the Boosters to come to the field house Thursday night (tonight) after the team's dress rehearsal under the light to meet the Lions personally and talk with them.

The coach also told the Boosters they would be welcome to come to the field house to talk with the coaches and the Lions after the home games. "Just give us (coaches and players) 15 or 20 minutes to talk over the game," he said, "then come on in and we'll all talk it over."

The Boosters viewed this "open house" as an opportunity for them to give the Lions a pat on the back after the game and to get the answers from the coaches to questions that may have arisen in their minds during the game.

Trial by jury was one of the main points in the Magna Charta which King John signed in the year 1215.

Council OKs New Sewer Rates

(Continued from Page One) was passed 24 years ago, during the depression year of 1933, and that there has never been an increase since that time despite a 250 per cent drop in the value of the dollar.

Pointing out that he knew of no other utility rates which have not been raised in the last quarter of a century, Parkinson observed that the $2-per-quarter charge has operated the plant, paid off a heavy bonded debt and in recent years has paid for thousands of dollars worth of new equipment and improvements.

He emphasized that the city is not requesting an increase of its own accord but is complying with orders of the Water Pollution Control Board to expand the plant or be subject to a $500-per-day fine for failure to comply with its orders.

The present permit to discharge plant effluent into Paint Creek expires Oct. 15 and no renewal is possible without satisfactory evidence that the city is acting to correct an admittedly bad situation.

PARKINSON pointed out that studies show the average family is producing nearly twice as much sewage as 25 years ago, and he added that many cities are now forced to charge sewer rental fees two to five times those included in the new ordinance.

Present rates produce only as much revenue as the city's parking meters, although the state of Ohio regards a sewage treatment plant as an essential municipal utility second only to a waterworks.

The city manager drew attention to a $33-per-quarter charge in Reynoldsburg and a $5-per-quarter charge in Waverly.

Council already has asked a $159,900 federal grant to help with the required half-million-dollar expansion program which will increase the capacity of the plant from the present 1½ million gallons a day to approximately five million gallons a day. Parkinson said he is optimistic over the chances of obtaining the federal aid.

The increased plant capacity, it has been pointed out, should be adequate for the city's needs until 1980 at the present rate of growth and the resultant improvement in operation should produce a final effluent more than 95 per cent pure.

OF THE CITY'S $373,000 share of the estimate cost, $23,000 would come from an anticipated sewage fund balance and the remainder would be raised through the sale of revenue bonds payable through the increased fees.

The new rate ordinance fixes charges ranging for 8 cents to 40 cents per 1,000 gallons for industrial sewage, bars flammable, oily and dangerous wastes and provides for extra charges for concentrated sewage which creates an extra burden for the treatment plant. These latter charges are to be determined by tests.

The schedule covers all types of installations and attempts to remove any inequities, even down to charges for public toilets graduated on the basis of estimated use.

Hotels and motels will be charged on a room basis—each room with bath being charged at the rate of

Ohio River Village Restoring Ancient Cobblestone Wharf

MOSCOW, Ohio (AP) — There is the upper part was built and old. The town's fire truck pumps water from the Ohio River and it is being sluiced under high pressure onto the cobblestones to finish the job of clearing them.

But all of it has been buried under three feet of mud for many years.

Some time ago, the Clermont County Board of Health needed some fill dirt, so it was decided to scrape the dirt off the old wharf. A bulldozer did the job until it began to scrape the cobblestone surface of the wharf. Then the excavation work became the job of the fire department.

The firemen and the boat club members are trying to get as much of the wharf cleared and ready for use as possible in time for a series of outboard motor-boat and hydroplane races here next Saturday.

The boat club, headed by Henry Cushman, doesn't plan to charge for the use of the wharf for launching but they're casting a gentle hint for a little help in meeting the excavation and maintenance costs.

They have put up a box with a sign on it that donations will be accepted.

3 Brig Guards
To Face Trial

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Three former guards at the Jacksonville Naval Air Station brig will be tried by general court-martial on charges resulting from alleged mistreatment of prisoners, Adm. Wendell G. Switzer says.

The three who will face general courts—the most serious of military judiciary procedure—were identified as Sgt. Steve Balazs, 22, of Lakeview, N. Y.; Pfc. Virgil Thornton, 22, of Jacksonville, both Marines, and William Joyce Jordan, 24, Navy radarman first class from Dawson, Ga.

Fayette County Farm Families To Be Hosts To Plowing Match Contestants, Officials

An estimated 30 Fayette County farm families will be hosts Sunday, Sept. 22, when 65 contestants, team managers and officials of the World's Plowing Contest go through the county on their way to Columbus from Cincinnati following the four-day long plowing meet at Peebles.

Frank Sollars, representing the Farm Bureau, announced Thursday that the women of the Farm Bureau have agreed to ask county families to open their houses to the foreign guests for Sunday dinner.

ROBERT MINSHALL, public relations director for the Dayton Power and Light Co., is serving as public relations director of the plowing contest. He conceived the plan of inviting the contest participants and officials to dine with local farmers, remembering that during his trip last year to the European-held contest the thing he missed most was the lack of good home cooking.

Proud of Fayette County cooking, Minshall, a Washington C. H. resident, believes this year's contestants might feel the same way he did—and he felt sure they would enjoy meeting Fayette County folks and having Sunday dinner with them.

ADAMS COUNTY will be the scene of the contest which will be held Sept. 17, 18, 19 and 20. Fourteen nations will send competitors, and the world's champion will be announced on the final day. Contestants and officials will spend the following day in Cincinnati before leaving for Columbus by bus.

On their way through Fayette County, in addition to having dinner with local families, the group will inspect the Emerson Marting Hereford farm and the Frank Sollars pig hatchery.

New, Continuing Idle Pay Claims Increasing

COLUMBUS (AP)—New and continuing claims for unemployment compensation showed increases for the week ended Sept. 7, the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reports.

New claims climbed to 11,694 compared with 10,224 for the week ended Aug. 31. Continuing claims—those unemployed one week or more—increased from 49,935 to 51,622. The average weekly new claims for September of last year was 6,265, and that of continuing claims 37,777.

The Turkish Republic was proclaimed on Oct. 29, 1923, with Mustapha Kemal as president.

ON TO PEEBLES! — Pretty, brown-eyed Ann Lane, 16, chosen Queen of the Furrow points the way to Peebles, where she will be hostess for the 1957 World's Conservation Exposition and Plowing Contests Sept. 17-20. Miss Lane, who lives on a 160-acre farm in Fulton County, was among more than 1,100 farm girls entering initial competition in the Queen of the Furrow contest which was co-sponsored by the Soil Conservation Districts of Ohio and American Fence dealers.

It is because of Chanel that college girls are going back to school this fall in middy tops and pleated skirts, that women of fashion are going in for the "relaxed look" and the "casual approach."

It was also because of Chanel that the entire fashion world did a flip-flop back in the flapper era, and women suddenly discarded girdles, rolled their stockings, shortened their skirts, threw away their belts, went in for the boyish look and learned the Charles Christian Dior, venerated the award won in 1947 for his revolutionary "New" Chanel was born in Auvergne,

She also owned a fabric house and perfume laboratories which turned out a scent that still is the favorite of many women all over the world—Chanel No. 5.

Ohio Turncoat Prefers U. S. Life

HANKOW, China (AP)—An American turncoat from Marietta, Ohio, says he thinks Communism is a "good deal," but that he likes "the American way of life."

Scott Rush, 26, captured by the Chinese Reds in the Korean War, gave his views on China in a visit with 30 young Americans touring Red China.

"For those who want Communism," he said, "it's a good deal. I am an American and I like the American way of life."

Rush said he is married to a Chinese girl and works as a lathe operator in a textile factory.

Youths Steal Bus, Leave It in Yard

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—William A. Durfee heard a noise outside his house Wednesday night, peeked out a window and saw a big 44-passenger bus nudged against a tree.

He also saw three teen-agers run from the darkened bus.

Police said the three youths apparently had stolen the bus from a parking lot to go for a joy ride.

2 Veteran Cleveland Police Officers Fired

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two veteran police officers were fired by Safety Director John N. McCormick Wednesday on charges involving drunkenness. Sgt. Louis G. Molnar, 48, a policeman 26 years, was charged with unauthorized absence from duty and intoxication. The other dismissal was that of Patrolman John F. Mikulka, 40, a veteran of 12 years. He was cited for drunkenness and sleeping on duty at the prison ward in City Hospital Sept. 4.

Letter to the Editor

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD: Because I consider myself a good, red-blooded American citizen; I can no longer listen to and read the things I do about school integration, and keep my peace.

Every American who believes in the preamble to and the Constitution of the United States of America; should, I feel, voice his opinion in this very important matter.

It seems to me that the persons opposed to Negro and white children attending school together, are trying with every fibre of their being to belittle the Constitution of our United States.

Doesn't it say in the Preamble "We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union."

(1) establish justice
(2) insure domestic tranquility
(3) provide for the common defense

(4) promote the general welfare

(5) secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

I wonder how many of the opposers remember or have noticed that there is no mention of race, creed or color in the Preamble. Rather, it speaks of "We the people" and "ourselves and our posterity".

Negroes are as much a part of the United States as are the whites. While we haven't a flag to call our own as has every other race of people, we fight and die willingly under the flag of the United States of America which we call our own. We think enough of our country and our countrymen to fight side by side with them for the life, liberty and pursuit of happiness, we are all supposed to be entitled to.

Why then, shouldn't we attend classes together?

We are called ignorant, stupid, illiterate etc. Perhaps this is true of some of us. However, it is also true of some people of other races though you seldom hear those words used in connection with any other than the Negroes.

Can anyone among you say that the Negro has been afforded the opportunity that the people of other races have? There should be a frank no to that question.

There is little consideration or help for the American Negro.

Of the Negroes who obtain college educations, and are as qualified as their white brother who has a similar education; how many succeed in obtaining the positions they are qualified for? Very few. Not because of their lack of education or experience as many would have us believe, but because of the color of their skin or coarseness of their hair. Now I ask you—Is this fair? Is it fair to deprive our children of a good education because of their outward appearance?

If only people would stop to think that these very children who are fighting for equal rights now will have a big voice in the future decisions of our country both major and minor.

Remember too, that for every step the Negro makes forward, he usually takes several steps back. Stop also, and think this over. There is so little regard or appreciation for the effort we do put forth to better ourselves and our

Young Tommy Sands Looming As Tops among Singing Idols

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I'm not the handsomest guy in the world. There are lots of others who can sing better and act better. That's why it's best for me to plan my career as carefully as I can."

This is the modest statement of jet-jawed, eager Tommy Sands, 20-year-old singing sensation. He's a bundle of ambition, and no wonder — he was a flop for nine whole years!

"Ever since I was 11, I wanted to get ahead in show business," he said. "I tried everything — singing, acting, writing songs. Nothing worked."

"When I was in school, I wouldn't listen to the teacher. I'd be busy trying to write a song at my desk. About two days before the test, I'd start paying attention and cram enough to pass."

Tommy's luck started to change one night when he was singing in a Houston dance hall. "Colonel" Tom Parker, who was then managing Eddy Arnold, heard the lad sing and figured him as a comer. The Colonel started managing another singer named Presley, but he remembered Tommy and tossed him an occasional job.

Last January, Presley was sought for an hour-long TV drama, "The Singing Idol." He was tied up in a picture, so Parker suggested Tommy Sands.

Tommy was a sensation. Whammo, everything started happening to him! He was signed by Capitol Records. His first record, "Teenage Crush," sold more than a million copies. He made guest appearances on a dozen TV shows. He drew screaming mobs at the Roxy, Theater in New York.

He was signed to a contract by 20th Century-Fox and now he's starring in a film version of "The Singing Idol."

Tommy said he isn't going for the quick buck by taking all the week old.

appearances and movies that are offered him.

"I'd rather go out and do 20 or 30 one-nighters with a well-rounded show, so when I play the towns again they'll want to see me," he said. "And, I'd rather take less money for a quality picture like 'The Singing Idol' than make some quickies for a lot more."

With such reasoning, Tommy may still be around while the other singing idols are but a memory.

"But I guess Nig thought he could stick with it if I could," Morris said. Now, when Morris takes a fresh chew, he has to share it with Nig.

Nig Is a Nag Who Likes Plug

PONCA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Nig is a nag that likes a plug. He is a tobacco-chewing horse owned by farmer Jim Morris who said the animal got the habit a long time ago.

Morris, 72, said Nig got the nicotine habit one day when he bunned a little wad off his master in the barnyard. Morris said Nig at first didn't appear to care for the tidbit.

"But I guess Nig thought he could stick with it if I could," Morris said. Now, when Morris takes a fresh chew, he has to share it with Nig.

Letter to the Editor

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

Because I consider myself a good, red-blooded American citizen; I can no longer listen to and read the things I do about school integration, and keep my peace.

Every American who believes in the preamble to and the Constitution of the United States of America; should, I feel, voice his opinion in this very important matter.

It seems to me that the persons opposed to Negro and white children attending school together, are trying with every fibre of their being to belittle the Constitution of our United States.

Doesn't it say in the Preamble "We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union."

(1) establish justice
(2) insure domestic tranquility
(3) provide for the common defense

(4) promote the general welfare and

(5) secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

I wonder how many of the opposers remember or have noticed that there is no mention of race, creed or color in the Preamble. Rather, it speaks of "We the people" and "ourselves and our posterity".

Negroes are as much a part of the United States as are the whites. While we haven't a flag to call our own as has every other race of people, we fight and die willingly under the flag of the United States of America which we call our own. We think enough of our country and our countrymen to fight side by side with them for the life, liberty and pursuit of happiness, we are all supposed to be entitled to.

Why then, shouldn't we attend classes together?

We are called ignorant, stupid, illiterate etc. Perhaps this is true of some of us. However, it is also true of some people of other races though you seldom hear those words used in connection with any other than the Negroes.

Can anyone among you say that the Negro has been afforded the opportunity that the people of other races have? There should be a frank no to that question.

There is little consideration or help for the American Negro.

Of the Negroes who obtain college educations, and are as qualified as their white brother who has a similar education; how many succeed in obtaining the positions they are qualified for? Very few. Not because of their lack of education or experience as many would have us believe; but because of the color of their skin or curliness of their hair. Now I ask you—Is this fair? Is it fair to deprive our children of a good education because of their outward appearance?

If only people would stop to think that these very children who are fighting for equal rights now will have a big voice in the future decisions of our country both major and minor.

Remember too, that for every step the Negro makes forward, he usually takes several steps back. Stop also, and think this over. There is so little regard or appreciation for the effort we do put forth to better ourselves and our conditions. Why then do we keep trying so hard?

Well, I believe there are several reasons.

1—We want to be capable, efficient, useful citizens.

2—We want to love one another as our Father in Heaven would have us all do.

3—We want to love our countrymen regardless of race, creed or color and work (not fight) side by side with them to keep America strong and rid it of any and all prejudice.

4—The majority of us believe that anything worthwhile is worth every effort if the end result hoped for is obtained.

Thank you sir, for letting me express my opinion and in so doing exercise two of our four freedoms. The freedom of Press and Speech.

Young Tommy Sands Looming As Tops among Singing Idols

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I'm not the handsomest guy in the world. There are lots of others who can sing better and act better. That's why it's best for me to plan my career as carefully as I can."

This is the modest statement of jet-jawed, eager Tommy Sands, 20-year-old singing sensation. He's a bundle of ambition, and no wonder—he was a flop for nine whole years!

"Ever since I was 11, I wanted to get ahead in show business," he said. "I tried everything—singing, acting, writing songs. Nothing worked."

"When I was in school, I wouldn't listen to the teacher. I'd be busy trying to write a song at my desk. About two days before the test, I'd start paying attention and cram enough to pass."

Tommy's luck started to change one night when he was singing in a Houston dance hall. "Colonel" Tom Parker, who was then managing Eddy Arnold, heard the lad sing and figured him as a comer. The Colonel started managing another singer named Presley, but he remembered Tommy and tossed him an occasional job.

Last January, Presley was sought for an hour-long TV drama, "The Singing Idol." He was tied up in a picture, so Parker suggested Tommy Sands.

Tommy was a sensation. Whammo, everything started happening to him! He was signed by Capitol Records. His first record, "Teenage Crush," sold more than a million copies. He made guest appearances on a dozen TV shows. He drew screaming mobs at the Roxy, Theater in New York.

He was signed to a contract by 20th Century-Fox and now he's starring in a film version of "The Singing Idol."

Tommy said he isn't going for the quick buck by taking all the appearances and movies that are offered him.

"I'd rather go out and do 20 or 30 one-nighters with a well-rounded show, so when I play the towns again they'll want to see me," he said. "And, I'd rather take less money for a quality picture like 'The Singing Idol' then make some quickies for a lot more."

With such reasoning, Tommy may still be around while the other singing idols are but a memory.

"But I guess Nig thought he could stick with it if I could," Morris said. Now, when Morris takes a fresh chew, he has to share it with Nig.

Nig Is a Nag Who Likes Plug

PONCA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Nig is a nag that likes a plug.

He is a tobacco-chewing horse owned by farmer Jim Morris who said the animal got the habit a long time ago.

Morris, 72, said Nig got the nicotine habit one day when he bummed a little wad off his master in the barnyard. Morris said Nig at first didn't appear to care for the tidbit.

"But I guess Nig thought he could stick with it if I could," Morris said. Now, when Morris takes a fresh chew, he has to share it with Nig.

Boys' Choir Tryouts Scheduled Next Week

Tryouts for the 1957-58 edition of the choir will be conducted Monday and Thursday evenings of next week in the Presbyterian Church House on N. Hinde St.

Both former members and new candidates for the choir are to report for the tests. Mrs. Robert E. Willis, founder and director of the group announced Thursday.

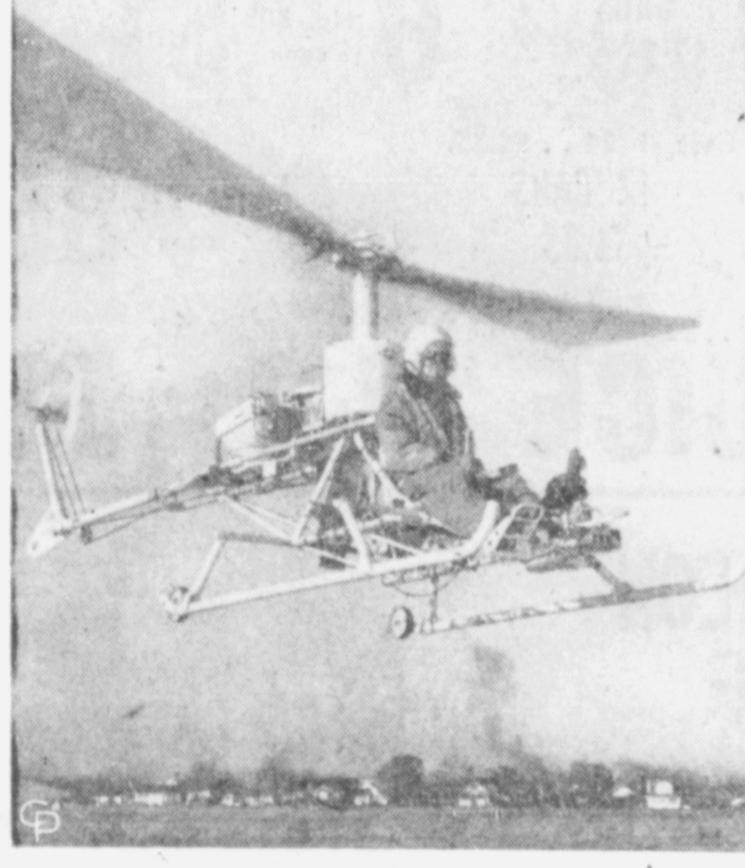

Tryouts will begin at 5 p. m. on each of the two days and those reporting will be dismissed immediately after their individual appearances. Date for the first rehearsal will be announced later.

Any Fayette County boy or young man between the ages of 9 and the early 20s who can sing and who likes to sing is invited to try out for the choir which last year had a membership of 30.

THE CHOIR DIRECTOR also requests that boys interested in becoming piano accompanists for the group report for tryouts on one of the two evenings. Potential soloists are being sought, too.

Mrs. Charles Lutz Jr. will be choir master this year. Richard Wood will be treasurer, and Mrs. Wood will act as projects mother, directing fund-raising activities. All adult personnel working with Various cuts of beef, ranging from boneless chuck to sirloin or porterhouse steak, will be popular items in the nation's grocery stores this week.

Housewives should find a cut to suit their budget in the variety offered.

Armed Thug Fails To Upset Lady, 70

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Nothing seems to upset 70-year-old Katherine Dolan—not even a loaded automatic.

Wednesday, for the third time in less than a year, the little lady shooed an armed bandit out of her modest grocery store.

Mrs. Dolan told police a young man walked into her store and pointed a gun against her bosom. "This," he said grimly, "is a holdup."

Mrs. Dolan disagreed: "Oh, no it isn't."

Then she turned her back on the gunman and dialed the police. The bandit fled.

Kim Novak's Independence Brings Star Cheers, Boos

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Kim Novak has crossed her Rubicon, and she's getting cheers and boos for it in Hollywood.

There comes the point in the lives of almost all top stars when they declare their independence. Having been nurtured to stardom by a studio, they reach a position where they feel the studio is not doing right by them.

It happened two years ago with Marilyn Monroe, Kim Novak now has made the same move. She informed Columbia she wouldn't report for an Alfred Hitchcock loan-out until she got a salary adjustment. Her current wage: $1,250 a week.

The feud has now been patched up, but her relationship with the studio will never be the same. Local viewpoints of her action are cauliflower, pascal and golden heart celery, cucumbers, escarole and endive.

Cantalopes and watermelons, which have been good buys all summer, are shading upward in price now, although still in the bargain class.

Other stores will feature veal and pork, while some will tempt the housewife with unusual items such as oyster stew, Cornish hens and Long Island ducklings.

Egg prices were mostly lower this week, by as much as four cents a dozen in some places.

Pegged as outstanding vegetables are green and yellow squash, peppers, potatoes, onions, eggplant, cabbage and topped carrots. All are in good supply and therefore cheap. In the good buy category, a shade less plentiful and a bit more expensive,

Sen. Bricker Booked

COLUMBUS (AP)—Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) is scheduled to address the annual meeting of Ohio Trade Assn. executives at Lancaster today.

He argued that the same agents put the blame on Kim's new agents and argues that tough old Harry Cohn, Columbia's blustery boss, will not be pushed around.

He argued that the same agents tried to wangle a new deal for Rita Hayworth, "resulting in Miss Hayworth's being out of work for practically five years and on returning, hardly resembling the star that Cohn and his studio made over a period of years."

The converse view is offered by W. R. Wilkerson, veteran publisher of the Hollywood Reporter. He argued that Kim "will wait around as long as Rita Hayworth did and suffer the same drop in prestige."

So who's right?

The feud has now been patched up, but her relationship with the studio will never be the same. Local viewpoints of her action are generally at two extremes: That she is a brave girl who seeks what she rightly deserves; that she is biting the hand that feeds her a star.

The first view was expressed to me by another young actress of first magnitude. Said she:

"I take my hat off to Kim. What is she making—$1,250 a week? Why it's ridiculous. After she pays her agents, taxes and so forth, she probably keeps $400. She's got to live on that. She can't save any money that way."

The converse view is offered by W. R. Wilkerson, veteran publisher of the Hollywood Reporter. He

Is Miracle Possible in N Flag Race?

Milwaukee Continues To Lose as St. Louis Chalks Up Victories

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Is that a miracle or a mirage taking shape in the National League pennant race?

A miracle finish, such as the New York Giants staged in 1951, is like a tango. It takes two. Even a spirited sprint down the stretch, such as the Giants' 37-7 drive six years ago, won't bring a payoff unless the leader collapses, as did the Brooklyn Dodgers when they lost 23 of their last 49 and then blew it all to the Giants in the three-game pennant playoff.

That's the situation in the NL race now. The second-place St. Louis Cardinals have won seven of their last eight while Milwaukee's first-place Braves, perhaps building pressure by insisting there isn't any, have lost five of their last eight.

The Cards stayed with it Wednesday night, battering Philadelphia 14-6 and climbing within 4½ games of the Braves, who were dropped 2-1 by the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The New York Yankees split a day-night double-header against Cleveland. O! Sal Maglie tossed a three-hitter that beat his former Tribe mates 5-0 in the opener, but Ray Narleski then set down the Yankees on four hits in Cleveland's 4-1 nightcap victory.

That left the champs with a 5½-game lead over Chicago's second-place White Sox, who scored three in the 11th and beat Boston 4-1.

Third-place Brooklyn, seven games behind Milwaukee, defeated the Chicago Cubs 9-1 in the only NL game scheduled.

In the other AL games, a pair of two-night double-headers, Detroit swept Washington 3-0 and 12-2, and Baltimore split with Kansas City, winning 6-2 after a 7-3 defeat.

The Cardinals, hitting their one-game scoring high of the season, rapped 15 hits off ex-mate Harvey Haddix and five relievers while collecting a pair of six-run innings. Del Ennis drove in three runs with his 22nd and 23rd home runs. Herm Wehmeier won his fourth in a row.

Warren Spahn, who had been Milwaukee's stopper, had the goods on the Pirates except for Hank Foiles—No. 8 in the batting order. Foiles had a perfect day with three of the Bucs' eight hits, swatting a home run that tied it 1-all in the third and driving home the clincher with a two-out single in the ninth.

Right-hander Ron Kline won his sixth in a row with a six-hitter. Andy Pafko, who homered in the second, and Del Rice had four of the Braves' hits.

Maglie, the 40-year-old right-hander Cleveland snubbed as "just another guy" after buying him from the Giants in 1955, gave up a single to Joe Caffie and Russ Nixon's ground rule double in the second, then hit the Tribe until Nixon singled with two out in the ninth. It was Sal's first American League victory.

Early Wynn lost his 7th.

Narleski was touched for two hits by Hank Bauer, one an RBI triple in the fifth that cut the Indians' lead to 2-1. The Tribe rapped Bobby Shantz for eight hits in his seven frames.

Jim Rivera's third hit, a single, drove in the tie-breaking run for the White Sox. Fred Hatfield then added a two-run pinch single in the big frame that handed Willard Nixon an 11-11 record. Young Bill Fischer went all the way with a 10-hitter.

The Dodgers smacked 15 hits, 14 of them singles, and nailed it with six runs in the fourth that handed Bob Rush a 15th defeat. Johnny Podres hit his major league high with a 12th victory.

Jim Bunning hit his first major league home run and gained his first shutout along with his 18th victory for the Tigers in the opener. Frank Lary then won his 10th in the nightcap as Detroit scored nine in the seventh, two off Frank House's homer.

Ralph Terry four-hit the Orioles in the opener for Kansas City, losing a shutout on Al Pilarcik's ninth-inning home run. Baltimore then ended its losing string at five on two-run homers by George Kell and Gus Triandos in the nightcap.

Women have the right to vote in Bermuda, but they are not eligible for jury duty.

Buckeyes Stress Ground Offense

COLUMBUS (AP) — Coach Woody Hayes gave his Ohio State Buckeyes a heavy dose of ground offensive practice Wednesday, but he said when the workout was over: "Just let a team over-commit itself towards our running, say up the middle. Watch out!"

The Buckeyes tried some passing during Wednesday's intensive scrimmage, but concentrated mainly on ground work. With left half Don Clark out of offensive play to protect himself against further injury, the fullbacks carried the main work load.

Linden McKinley Looks Tough to Blue Squad

Lions Just Aren't Ready--Domenico

By JACK AYER

There's no question about it. Coach Fred Domenico, if he had his way, would not be opening the football season against Linden McKinley.

This is not to say he doesn't think his Washington C. H. High School team has the brains, brawn, speed, power and agility to be a winner.

Rather, it means that Domenico is plagued by one big problem—inxperience—that only time can overcome.

The Linden game, at 8 p. m. Friday on Linden's home field, will pit the Lions against one of the toughest teams in the Columbus area.

"If we were to meet McKinley later in the season, it would be a different story."

"But meeting them at the beginning, with a squad as inexperienced as ours, could be dangerous," he explained.

CLARIFYING the point, Domenico noted that no fewer than six of his 14 potential starters (offensive and defense) were lettermen last year.

And, of the eight remaining, only a few of them played what might be called "regular" ball.

"These boys have been working hard," Domenico said, pointing out: "we've been working them hard, and they've been taking it all."

"But they still haven't jelled. They're slow. They don't know the plays well enough to think fast yet. They can't work as a team."

"Football takes fast thinking," said Domenico, belittling a suggestion that his team might not be as big and strong as necessary. "The way these boys are in condition," he added, "we can be a team anybody—once we start thinking fast enough."

Will that happen in time to beat Linden McKinley up there Friday night?

Domenico says "we'll have to wait and see."

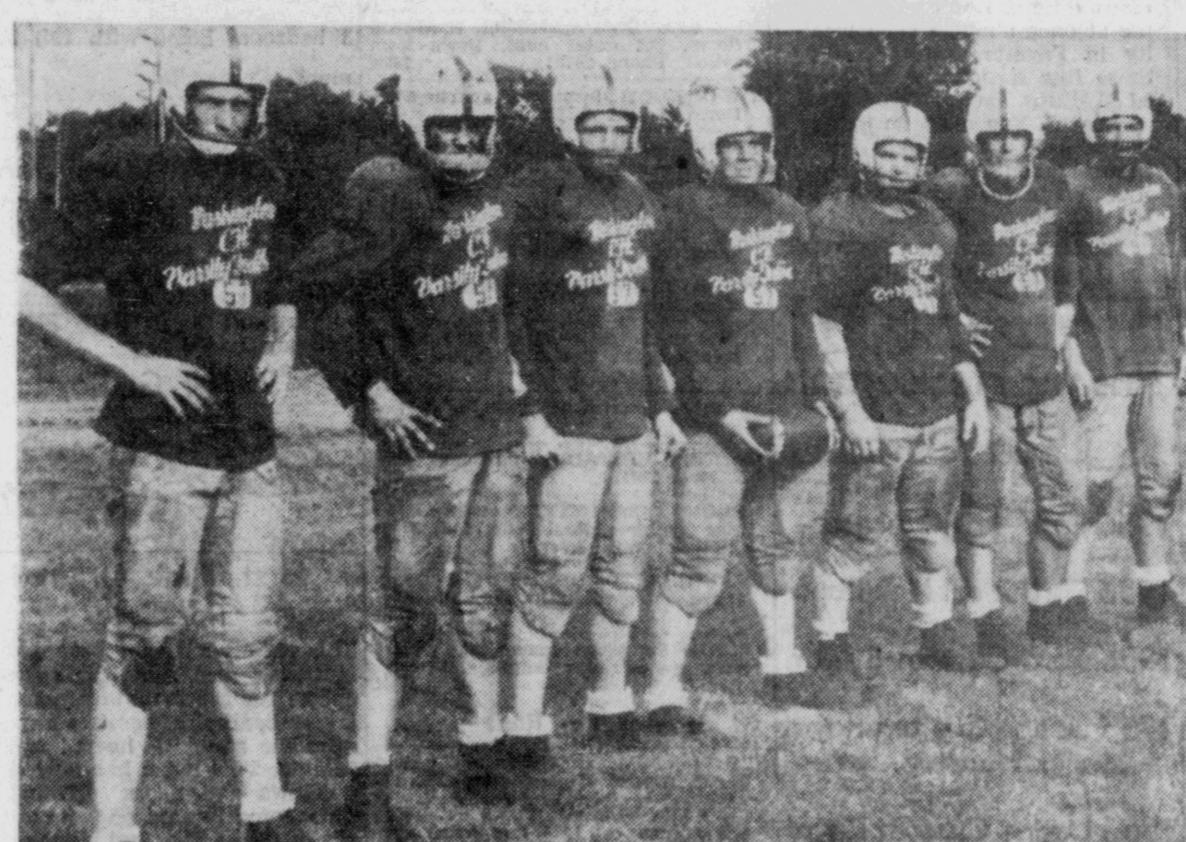

True to the coach's claims, Domenico's team, though it may lack depth and experience, has plenty of talent.

In the all-important quarterback slot, he expects to open with Charles Hire, an aggressive junior letterman. For reserves, he has sophomore John Campbell and Freshman Mike Chakeres—the latter described as "one of the hardest-working rookies on the squad."

At the same time the number of six-man teams has dwindled from 52 to 45, and the eight-man game has disappeared from the Buckeye realm. In other states, among smaller schools, eight-man football is gaining steadily.

Emswiler based his "smoothness" angle on the fact that uniform officiating will prevail all over the state this year as the result of numerous interpretation meetings.

E. C. (Irish) Kreiger of Columbus, special adviser to the National Rules Committee, has attended interpretation sessions this year with the Ohio High School Athletic

Ohio's High School Football Season To Open on Friday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's high school football teams defy "Friday the 13th" jinx Friday as they launch their 1957 campaign.

H. W. Emswiler, commissioner of scholastic athletics, predicted in time the state is in for "its smoothest and largest season."

The "largest" comes from the fact that consolidations have boosted the number of football-playing schools from 588 last year to over the 600 mark—the first time that figure has been reached.

With the officials and the coaches in agreement all over the state on how various rules will be interpreted, we should have few disputes or protests."

The Ohio scholastic teams will operate under the NCAA rules for the most part, the big exception being that unlimited substitutions will be permitted in the high school games.

"We feel that in the interest of safety, and to permit as many boys as possible to get into the games, we should stick to the unlimited substitution rule," Emswiler said. "That rule enables a coach to remove a slightly injured boy, ascertain the extent of his injuries, and then get him back into the game almost immediately if conditions warrant. It also allows the coaches to use the two-platoon system if they desire, or to make extensive defensive and

"With the officials and the coaches in agreement all over the state on how various rules will be interpreted, we should have few disputes or protests."

The men—Harold Roberts of Barberston, George Snowden of near Wadsworth, and George Maddox of Akron—all said they thought the season had opened. The area is not open until next Monday, a long enough neighboring Holmes County's season opened Sept. 2.

8 Indicted In Pennsy Poll Probe

NEW CASTLE, Pa. — Eight New Castle residents were indicted Wednesday night for conspiracy and libel of candidates in the distribution of literature prior to last May's primary election.

The grand jury also made a presentment for the indictment of Republican Dist. Atty. Perry L. Keeher of Lawrence County and two other persons, including a county detective. But Judge Burton R. Laub of Erie County ruled the presentment invalid.

The eight were charged with distributing unsigned literature of an obscene nature attacking Howard Lyon, candidate for the Republican nomination for district attorney.

Adams, 22, who gave his address originally as Route 2 Washington C. H. but later said he now lives in Greenfield.

The fine and costs were suspended on condition he pay for damage to a glass door at Penny's Confectionery.

The charge was filed by Glenn Penn, operator of the confectionery, who testified that Adams asked to use his phone Tuesday night, was refused, and pushed the door open on his way out with such violence that the glass broke.

ADAMS SAID he wanted to use the phone to "call help," and indicated that there was fight going on "near the school." Penn said he refused him permission on the grounds that the youth had caused trouble there previously and "I didn't want him in there."

Police said they haven't verified details, but there was apparently a fight of some sort on the street near the confectionery.

In the aftermath of Adams' arrest, William Clouser, 21, of Wilmington was treated by a Greenfield physician for a bone fracture in the right hand, and a youth identified as Dean Roberts, 21, of Leesburg, for a blackened eye.

Also recommended for indictment were County Detective Russell E. McComahy for perjury and Anthony Marmo of New Castle for conspiracy.

Judge Laub invalidated presentments against Reher, McComahy and Marmo when he learned the jury had made the presentments on the basis of testimony heard during a probe.

In its presentment recommending indictment of Reher, the grand jury said he unlawfully conspired with one of the eight to defraud Lyon.

Two Teenagers Are Picked Up On Charges of Drunkenness

A 17-year-old Gregg St. youth was taken into custody for public intoxication on W. Elm St. Wednesday night, and a 16-year-old south end boy was brought in for the same offense from a bar outside city limits.

Juvenile Court hearing for the pair was set for Saturday morning. In the meantime, Deputy Sheriff Donald Thompson said he was investigating and "contemplating" filing two charges of serving liquor to minors against the spot where the 16-year-old was picked up.

Police arrested the older boy and 31-year-old companion on W. Elm St. about 7 p. m. after an anonymous tipster phoned to say "two men are staggering up the street."

Thompson went to the night spot after police notified him the 17-year-old said he had been drinking beer there. The 16-year-old was found with a bottle of beer in front of him at a table.

Both were held in county jail overnight, but were released Thursday in the custody of their parents pending the hearing Saturday.

The 17-year-old's companion was charged with public intoxication and slated for court appearance Friday.

The light at the Elm St. intersection was moved there from the McElwain corner during the summer after residents in the latter area complained of the traffic noise.

It was pointed out at that time that since McElwain dead-ends into Washington, removal of the light to Elm would protect a busy crossing and still provide a safety sign for school children.

But after the change was made in the light "conked out" and has been out of service since mid-summer.

The light was replaced by a permanent structure.

In some areas the flood wave reached 90 feet as water from clobursts rushed down narrow valleys from barren, treeless mountain slopes. Rescue teams groped through the muddy rains, seeking victims of the floodwaters which swept into Ankara itself, covering low-lying areas and stallng traffic in waves of mud. They estimated that 500 to 1,000 homes had been destroyed and more than 2,000 flooded.
